Senate Approves 12 Committees; Drafts Sportsmanship Statement

IN A SPECIAL meeting Wednesday evening the Senate approved a dozen committees and drafted a statement advocating better sportsmanship.

The nine Senate sub-committees and three special committees were approved as recommended by the [illegible] committee.

WID TINGEY, studentbody president, brought up the problem of sportsmanship. The Senate commissioned the sub-committee on pep, one of the newly approved groups, to investigate the causes of booing at [illegible] games from the student level.

The [illegible] drawn up by Dallas Merrill, Senate president, and the pep sub-committee encouraged the students to keep up the high standards of sportsmanship for which BYU is known and to remember that their actions are a reflection upon our team, school and church.

THE SUB COMMITTEE appointments include Monty Kunz and Roger Victor, Inter-Organization Council; Rex Estes, Ann Taylor and Don Minor, public relations; LaMont Ririe and Elaine Gordon, pep; Sandy Butler and Jane Eddington, assemblies; Dave Ward and Garth Uibel, dances; Joanne Wells and Ann Jones, honor; Mel Close and Gerri Callister, student-faculty relations; Ben Dickison, Diane Hatch and Dennis Olsen, elections; and Walt Winkelman, Mar Johnson and Leo Weidner, floating committee.

Merrell said a clarification of the powers and duties of the committees would be drawn up by next Wednesday's Senate meeting.

Mar Johnson was approved as chairman of the special Rules and Procedures committee with Senators Walt Winkelman, Don [illegible] Olsen, Sandy Butler and Roger Victor working on the committee.

A Senate Prestige committee was established with Diane Hatch as chairman and Ann [illegible] Jones and Wid Tingey as members.

The Senate voted to [illegible] Nance Briggs as Constitution Committee chairman with Senators Mel Close, [illegible] and Dennis Olsen as [illegible]. The committee [illegible] functions [illegible] and includes [illegible] studentbody.

[To]day is the first anniversary [of the] premiere concert of the [Caril]lonic Bells on the Brigham [Youn]g University campus.

[The] bells were installed in [the Eyr]ing Science Center and [dedicated] and played for the [first time] on Feb. 3, 1955 during [a dedicati]on ceremony. Former [Go]vernor [and] former Salt Lake [Tabernacle] organist Alexander Schreiner [playe]d a [illegible] minute premier concert on the bells immediately [after the] ceremony.

[The] $[illegible],000 [set of] bells is a [illegible] gift to the University. [illegible] paid for by [illegible] collected over a [illegible] period. The University [illegible] the [illegible] is [illegible] cash [illegible] $6,000 [illegible] repairs.

[illegible] was present [illegible] on Nov. 1[illegible] 1954, and [the bi]nding vote was taken. The [purc]hase contract was signed on [illegible]. Installation began on [illegible] 2 of last year.

[illegible] the 61 bells is a small [illegible] of bell metal. They [are] struck with a small hammer to produce sound and the [soun]d is then amplified through [loud]speakers. They are [equiva]lent to 61 cast bells [weigh]ing 275,000 lbs. however [unli]ke the cast bells they can [be p]layed from one keyboard. [Vir]tually any type of music can [be p]layed on the bells, as long [as i]t is played in a key that [avo]ids clash of the bells over[tone]s. Single or double note [run]s generally sound best.

[T]he Eyring Science Center [hou]ses the bells on the fifth [floor]. Four water proofed speak[ers] are mounted on the roof of [the] building southeast of the [obse]rvatory dome. Sound can [be tra]nsmitted to the bells room for [pra]ctice.

[C]oncerts on the bells have been [give]n throughout the year for [vari]ous special occasions by such [artis]ts as J. J. Keeler, and Dean [Ge]rrit de Jong, Jr. of the Col[lege] of Fine Arts. Carols were [play]ed during the 1955 Christ[mas] season, and the bells were [play]ed early in the morning on Y Day. They can be heard before and after devotional assemblies and in concert on Wednesday evenings.

Next week will be observed as "Bell Week" on campus. Students will be contacted in a drive to collect this year's allotment for the bells, and special programs will be presented in commemoration of the anniversary of the bells.

Banyan Ball Queen To Be Selected By Photo Artist

Yousuf Karsh, world known Canadian portrait photographer, will choose the Banyan Queen from photographs of the six finalists, it was announced Thursday by John Marlow, Banyan editor.

Karsh first became prominent through a portrait he took of Winston Churchill during World War II. Some of the other famed personalities he has photographed are the King and Queen of Great Britain, Pres. Eisenhower, Bernard Baruch, George Bernard Shaw, and India's premier Jawaharal Nehru.

The photo artist lives just outside Ottawa. His portraits are said to sell for up to $500 a sitting and $25 a print.

Inter-Social Unit Council Acts On Complaints of 'Goat Week'

INTER-SOCIAL Unit Council decided to take action to prevent complaints about goat week activities. They reviewed plans for the rest of this week and a thorough organization of plans for the next goat session which has been set for Feb. 27.

Dr. Henry I. Isaksen, student coordinator, called a special meeting of the council to discuss a complaint which had reached the administration. He said this was the first official complaint filed though there had been some "flagrant violations" of the administration's policy on initiations.

AT LEAST FIVE social units are initiating their "goats" this week. Harry Ballard, inter-unit council president, asked representatives of these units to meet Thursday and review the rest of the activities they have planned.

He suggested that activities for the second goat session be discussed by social unit presidents at the next Inter-Organizational Council meeting.

The single formal complaint concerned a demonstration during a class in which a hidden alarm clock went off and a student jumped up, brushed his teeth with shaving cream, and recited a verse. The complaint said this act had been repeated in several classes.

At Thursday's meeting Dr. Isaksen reiterated the administration's [regula]tions for initiation: [illegible] no interference with classes, all activities must be scheduled with the student coordinator's office, no activities between 10:30 p.m. and 6 a.m. on school nights, and no public displays.

He said the administration was particularly concerned over the traditional "one-way ride" of the men's units. The goats are traditionally transported to a lonely spot at night and left to find their way home. Dr. Isaksen pointed out the danger of this, especially in sub-zero weather.

Skating Activities Planned for Friday At Boat Harbor

The lake is frozen. Therefore, the snow carnival ice skating activities will take place Friday according to Brent Pratley, Glendale, Calif., skating chairman. The ice skating race will be at 4 p.m. at the boat harbor.

Bob Olson, indoor champion of North America, will be in the race to set the pace. However, he won't be competing for the prizes, Pratley stated.

Winners will be awarded a trophy and four ribbons.

All students are urged to participate in the event. Those not participating are invited to be spectators.

New Dance Band To Be Organized, Tryouts Scheduled

Auditions are being held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week in room 40 of the Social Hall from 4:20 p.m. until 5:20 p.m. for members of a new dance band being organized by the Student Program Bureau. Auditions are being held by Richard Ballam.

Since so many requests and demands are coming in for musical productions built around show bands such as the Y's Men, it is necessary to organize a new band according to W. Cleon Skousen, adviser of the Program Bureau.

Musicians who are not affiliated with other touring organizations are urged to try out because this band will be called upon to tour. "It is felt that there are many fine instrumental musicians on campus who are not members of our regular musical organizations," commented Skousen. Players of all types of instruments are being sought.

The studentbody officers have made it known that this band will be given their support [illegible] up to the high [illegible] desired and will be hired for dances, [illegible] Skousen said.

[illegible] Ballam and Gus Shields [illegible] the new band.

Safety Valve

Pure in Heart. . .

Dear Editor

In regard to the article in the Safety Valve I have a few observations for 'Appalled"

Whatever gives some students the idea that the BYU is the City of Enoch where are all are pure in heart? I haven't heard of any proclamation from Salt Lake City declaring that the city has returned and the millenium is here

It seems strange that some students, who are above reproach in their moral conduct during a test, have time to look for the mote in the eyes of their fellows Do we have a genius among us who can breeze through the average test in a few minutes to give him time to check on the other students?

Another and more serious observation if the cheating has been so flagrant and frequent, 'Appalled," then YOU have the responsibility (as you will remember from the orientation propaganda) of seeing that the student at fault is dealt with according to the rules of the Honor Council! If the Honor System is not working at the BYU (but I contend that it is) then it is because students like yourself are afraid to stand up for what they know is right The sins of omission are often worse than those of commission I, for one, would not sit idly by and let someone steal a grade from me But as yet such practices have not come to my attention

Sincerely yours,
Eugene D Brubaker

John Problem. . .

Certain of us among the male population on campus feel that we have suffered enough abuse It's time for someone else to take a turn Those of us fortunate enough to have the name 'John' dislike having it tacked onto the end of such phrases as are commonly heard around the campus To wit "In the ———," I have to go to the ———," "I left it in the ———," etc Be it hereby known that we are rising again in protest

Brethren, unite! There is strength in numbers All who can qualify for membership are urged to join our recently revived society, which because of potential strength promises to outrival all societies on campus With our united power and brotherhood placed firmly in the S P C L J (Society for the Prevention of Calling Latrines Johns) we should be able to succeed in transferring the abuse that we have too long endured to the "Bobs" or the Wids" maybe even to the Steves"

Brighams Face High Scorers In Toby Roybal and Dick Brott

by Jack Smith
Universe Sports Writer

Brigham Young's slumping Cats will be fully primed to meet the acid test when they encounter dark horse New Mexico and mediocre Denver Friday and Saturday nights at the George Albert Smith Field House.

A loss in either game would put the Cougars out of the title picture in the race with the University of Utah Redskins.

Lobos Dark Horse

The New Mexico Lobos, led by scoring ace Toby Roybal, will be out to take over third place when they meet the Brighams Friday night. Coached by Bill Stockton, a newcomer to Skyline coaching ranks, the Wolfpack is currently resting in fourth place after suffering a very poor pre-season record. Roybal, the Skyline's leading scorer, is currently burning up the league with a 28 point plus average per game. Ed Pinegar of the Cougars will probably draw the defensive assignment on the Lobo ace.

Besides Roybal, the top men for the New Mexicans are John Peel, big 6'6" center who is one of the leading rebounders in the conference at present, and Walt Kincaid, a forward, who with a hot night could cause many grey hairs on the Cougar heads.

Stockton's team will be out to prove that they're not a bunch of Johnny Come Latelys when they clash this weekend. "We have worked hard and played well so far," Stockton says, "but every team in this conference is good. We can get slipped anytime by anybody. We're not [illegible] anything until we prove [illegible] the Lobo men [illegible]"

Program to Show Dead Sea Scrolls

PLANNING THE SHOW—Dr. Hugh Nibley (left) and Owen Rich are planning Sunday's "Discovery" show. Dr. Nibley will speak on the importance of Dead Sea scrolls to LDS doctrine.

IMPORTANCE of the Dead Sea scrolls to Latter-day Saint doctrines will be discussed Sunday on the Brigham Young University weekly television show, "Discovery." The discussion will be led by Dr Hugh Nibley, BYU religion professor

The scrolls are ancient Jewish writings first found by nomad Arabs in caves by the Dead Sea in Palestine They have been the subject of study by Bible scholars and historians, and parts of the writings on the scrolls are included in the new Revised Version of the Bible

Dr Nibley and other members of the BYU religion faculty will discuss the scrolls from the point of view of what they mean to LDS people and how they confirm and prove the Book of Mormon in both content and literary style

THE PANEL will discuss the attitude and views of the LDS Church on the authenticity and value of the scrolls and present the problems and questions the scrolls create for Bible scholars

'Discovery" is scheduled for Sunday noon on Channel 5, KSL-TV, according to producer Owen Rich The director of the half-hour program is Alden Richards The Sunday program will be the first of two programs devoted to Dr Nibley and the Dead Sea scrolls discussion

'Discovery" is a BYU-sponsored show which was established to show the University at work During the two years the show has been broadcast, most departments and subjects taught in the University have been presented on the program

THE PROGRAM tries to present to the public the new discoveries and developments in all fields made by science and culture, according to Producer Rich. Following the Dead Sea scrolls discussion, "Discovery" will present a program prepared by the chemistry department at BYU
